

Figma Acceptable Use Policy

This Acceptable Use Policy and our Brand Guidelines apply to your use of anything that Figma makes available, including Figma's SaaS platform, websites, and APIs (collectively, the "Services"). This policy outlines the standards of conduct we require on the Services and is designed to protect the integrity of the Services and other users. This policy may change as Figma grows and evolves, so please check back regularly for updates and changes.

1. Compliance with Laws and Regulations.

You are responsible for using the Service in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and Figma's documentation or help pages.

2. Conduct Restrictions.

While using the Services, do not:

- a. damage, disable, interfere with, or circumvent any aspect of the Services;
- b. interfere with anyone else's use of the Services;
- c. test, penetrate, or scan the Services for security vulnerabilities or limitations, other than in compliance with our bug bounty program;
- d. impersonate anyone or misrepresent your connection with any person or entity;
- e. use the Services to compete with Figma, or copy any ideas, features, functions, graphics of the Services;
- f. distribute any unwanted communication (e.g., using the Services to send spam);
- g. use the Services for activities where use or failure of the Services could lead to death, bodily injury, damage to personal property, or environmental damage; or
- h. access or use the Services in a manner intended to avoid incurring fees owed to Figma.

3. Content Restrictions

Do not upload or publish to the Services, or use the Services to distribute or create, anything that:

- a. is fraudulent, false, misleading, or deceptive;
- b. is defamatory, obscene, pornographic, vulgar, or offensive;
- c. promotes discrimination, bigotry, racism, hatred, harassment, or harm against any individual or group;
- d. is violent or threatening or promotes violence or actions that are threatening to any person or entity;
- e. promotes illegal or harmful activities or substances;
- f. is malicious or destructive, such as software viruses, worms, trojan horses, spyware, dishonest adware, scareware, crimeware, or any other malicious or destructive software of programs;

- g. is illegal or solicits conduct that is illegal under laws applicable to you or Figma;
- h. violates the rights of others, including data privacy, confidentiality, and/or intellectual property rights;
- a. is or includes sensitive information subject to regulation or protection under applicable laws, including but not limited to Sensitive Data as defined under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (for example, data relating to race, religion, politics, health, genetics, or sexual orientation);
- b. is or includes patient, medical, or other personal health information (including but not limited to protected health information under HIPAA);
- c. is or includes financial information, including but not limited to credit and debit card information;
- d. is or includes social security numbers or other government identifiers; or
- e. is or includes protected data about minors (such as data protected by the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act).

If you violate this policy, or encourage, allow or assist others to do anything to violate this policy, we will take any action we consider necessary to protect Figma, our users, and third parties. This may include quarantining or deleting data stored on the Services, or suspending your use or access to the Services. Please note that violation of this policy may result in termination in accordance with our termination rights in our agreement with you. You will not be entitled to any credit or other compensation for any interruption of the Services caused by your violation of this policy.
